Information About This Service

For Sales, press 1; For Support, press 2; ...

An IVR (Interactive Voice Response) call forwarding menu provides a convenient and efficient way to direct incoming calls to the correct person or department within your company. Call Forwarding (IVR) menus are available for the following services:

- 13, 1300 and 1800 Numbers (optional add-on service)
- Hosted Phone System (included as standard at no additional cost)

Calls can be directed to any extension within your phone system, and also to external landlines and mobile phones.

Live Answering and Voice2Email

You can set up IVR selections to direct callers to your Alltel Live Answering or Voice2Email services. For example, "to speak to an operator, please press 5; to leave a message, please press 6."

Ideal for Small Business

An IVR menu not only ensures that all calls are answered professionally and consistently, it can also make your business look larger than it is. No one ever needs to know that you're answering both the sales and support calls!

Distributed Offices

Start-ups and small businesses often have staff working in remote locations (for example, in home offices or even interstate).

An IVR menu can direct calls to external landlines and mobile-phones, which means you can provide a single phone number for your business. Incoming calls can then be forwarded to the correct employee—no matter where they're physically located.

Unless otherwise stated, there are NO term contracts.
